Ration Guard®*
(Product no. 86310014)

Liz Cresap of Bellflower Feed Mill has the following to say about Ration Guard . . .

"After trying a similar product that was on the market we switched to Ration Guard. After just two months we noticed a big difference. Since using Ration Guard we have had less build-up of liquid molasses on our manufacturing equipment, saving time on maintenance and possibly extending the life time of the equipment and reducing repair costs. One other benefit of Ration Guard is when working with the product it isn't dusty, and there is no strong odor which is what we experienced with the previous product we were using. Our sales representative is very informative and knowledgeable of all products. He is quick to answer any questions we may have and provides good support. This product provides benefits for our operation."
