

e-ADM: Online Inventory System

ONLINE ACCOUNT MANAGEMENT, INVENTORY MONITORING AND FORECASTING

Increase your efficiencies and simplify your business with real-time ingredient monitoring through ADM's Online Inventory Services. Our technology monitors bulk ADM ingredients at your location through probes in your tanks.

e-ADM.COM

ADM gives you the flexibility to choose integration and monitoring options to suit your business. A full-service solution includes durable sensors on your bulk-product tank paired with a transmission unit at your location that sends hourly readings to ADM to be interpreted and displayed on e-ADM.com.

Real-Time Inventory Monitoring

Online Inventory Services update hourly, so you can monitor your ingredient usage real time and plan orders accordingly. The system can send email alerts when an order needs placed, or when an order has been generated based on tank levels you define, reducing administrative tasks and giving you time to focus on your bottom line.

Information is archived and reported through ADM's secure customer portal, e-ADM.com, giving you 24-hour online access to your inventory information.

Customizable Inventory Reports and Forecasting

When you sign up for this system, you get detailed information on usage levels, customizable for your needs. Our Online Inventory Services displays your data in chart or graph format showing tank levels and numeric usage values. You can request reports on daily, weekly and monthly usage. You can even set up custom email alerts for tank levels, usage and shipments.

If you choose, the system can also forecast usage and recommended reorder dates based on average daily usage and storage space and notify you when an order should be placed.

All information is accessible through e-ADM.com, or you can receive selected reports via email. For your convenience, the system stores historical data, so you can view usage for past business cycles whenever you like.

SIGN UP To find out more or sign up for ADM's Online Inventory Services, simply contact your customer service representative or your regional sales manager.

Key Benefits

- Simplifies inventory management
- Offers real-time inventory monitoring
- Reports tank levels hourly
- Provides ingredient usage data
- Preserves historical data indefinitely
- Transmits inventory data securely

Powered by e-ADM.com

Behind our Online Inventory Services is the power of e-ADM.com, your free gateway to real-time news and information, plus a wealth of tools to simplify your business.

e-ADM.com gives you the flexibility of online account management, EDI and XML transactions, online inventory and logistics management, and more. It also gives you the convenience of accessing your information where you want, from your computer or mobile device.